B.Y. Vijayendra takes charge as State BJP President

Bengaluru, Nov. 15 (KMS & BS)- Shikaripura MLA and former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa's son B.Y. Vijayendra formally assumed charge as State BJP President at the Party Office in Malleswaram this morning.

Vijayendra, accompanied by his father Yediyurappa, outgoing party President and Dakshina Kannada MP Nalin Kumar Kateel and several other leaders, took part in the poornahuti of Ganapati homa and Gowri homa conducted at party office, before taking charge of his new role.

Addressing the party workers, Vijayendra gave a clarion call to put up a good show in the forthcoming Lok Sabha (LS) polls by sweeping all the 28 seats in the State and give a fitting reply to ruling Congress party.

"Along with LS polls, we should also ensure a good performance in Zilla Panchayat (ZP) and Taluk Panchayat (TP) polls and next Assembly elections too," he added.

Outgoing State BJP President Nalin Kumar Kateel handing over party flag to B.Y. Vijayendra at the Party Office in Bengaluru this morning as former CMs D.V. Sadananda Gowda and B.S. Yediyurappa, former Legislative Council Chairman D.H. Shankaramurthy and others look on.

"Congress came to power by branding previous BJP Government as '40% Commission Government', but now Congress is in power and has been in news for the last six months only for wrong reasons due to unabated corruption", he alleged.

He also clarified that he will not resort to 'Operation Kamala' to poach rival party MLAs to party-fold as Congress MLAs themselves will teach a lesson to their own party's Government for the pathetic situation they are in, for not getting allocated even a rupee fund from the Government.

Acknowledging the blessings of BJP National President J.P. Nadda, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and National General Secretary (Organisation) B.L. Santosh on being considered for the top post, Vijayendra thanked all of them for having faith in his ability to steer the party.

Outgoing State BJP President Nalin Kumar Kateel, who thanked the leaders for extending their cooperation while in office, also appealed to them to continue to support his successor B.Y. Vijayendra.

MCC launches e-Aasthi to digitise property records

Mandatory for all property owners; To sanitise revenue records, make it tamper-proof

Mysuru, Nov. 15 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation's (MCC) initiative, e-Aasthi, where property documents are digitised to ensure greater transparency, has been launched in all Wards and the officers are going house-to-house handing out forms/notices, seeking information and documents from the property owners.

The project aims to simplify services of the civic body's revenue wing, sanitise revenue records, bring in transparency and accountability, streamline tax collection, end illegal transactions and cut out touts and middlemen. e-Aasthi can be used to update property transactions like sale, inheritance, partition, gift, Will, land acquisition and Khata amalgamation or Khata bifurcation. While MCC's garbage collection vehicles are making announcements when they collect waste from homes in the morning regarding e-Aasthi, officers are visiting individual houses to distribute the forms where the owners are expected to fill in the details and submit them along with relevant documents.

Mandatory for UPOR PID number holders too

MCC Additional Commissioner M.J. Roopa told Star of Mysore this morning that e-Aasthi is mandatory to all property owners coming under MCC and the jurisdiction of MUDA (Mysuru Urban Development Authority) and the e-Aasthi for revenue properties will be taken up in the next phase.

KEA issues strict dress code for re-exams on Nov. 18 and 19

Bengaluru, Nov. 15- The Karnataka Examinations Authority (KEA) has banned any type of headgear, cap or any kind of cloth covering the head for the re-examinations to be conducted on Nov. 18 and 19, for recruitment to various posts.

"There is no provision to wear any kind of cloth or any other material covering head, ears, mouth, including a face mask," said a release issued by KEA.

The ban comes in the wake of malpractices reported during the recently held competitive examination for recruitments to various Departments.

"Any kind of electronic gadget including mobile phones, pen drive, ear phone, microphone and wrist watches will not be allowed inside the exam hall. Food item, pencil, paper, eraser, geometry box and log table are also barred," the release said.

The candidates appearing for the exam are not allowed to wear full-sleeve shirts, clothes with pockets, kurta pyjama and jeans.

"The clothes should be light, no big embroidery, zips and big buttons. Wearing shoes inside the exam centre is banned. Candidates can wear slippers with light sole," it said.

For female candidates, except mangalasutra and toe ring, wearing any ornament around the neck, ear ring/stud, hand kada or finger ring is banned.

Meanwhile, in a letter to Police Department, KEA has requested to install metal detectors at exam centres, to deploy one Policeman for every 25 candidates, to ban parking any vehicle in and around the exam centre and to keep an eye on suspicious persons roaming in hotels, PG accommodations, hostels and other public places.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE GIVING HALF: Of the many statistics that establish how stark is the gender inequality prevailing across the country, the one on living organ donations stands out. Because it sort of puts a number on how strong the male-female hierarchy is within the Indian family. Remember that in India live organ donations are mostly within the family, with an accompanying "family structure certificate." So when 4 of 5 living organ donors are women while 4 of 5 recipients are men, this reflects an overwhelmingly one-sided flow of organs from mothers and wives to husbands and sons. See this in the context of 93% of total organ donations in the country being from living donors.

A troubling but socially accepted explanation of this phenomenon is that men are the bread-winners, the financial responsibilities they are carrying for the family make their health a higher priority. But there is no data to establish how many of the male recipients are actually the 'bread-winners.' Even if such data existed and was conclusive, it would still mean that we as a society are saying that the lives of mothers and wives who are not bread-winners are not worth saving. Women are internalising this horrific pecking order.

One doctor said that men often take a kidney from their wife even if a brother would be an ideal donor, another that in 15 years that she has been working in this field only once did a husband come forward to donate his organ to his wife. In this deeply unequal environment it is almost impossible to separate women 'volunteering' from women being 'coerced.' Institutions and physicians should go the extra mile to counsel the donors and judge whether they are exercising 'free choice.' —In The Times of India

Pond turns bright pink in Hawaii

Maui: A pond in Hawaii has mysteriously turned bright pink - with experts voicing concerns about the bizarre phenomenon.

Curious onlookers have been flocking to the pond after images first appeared on social media.

Volunteers at the Kealia Pond National Wildlife Refuge in Maui, some of whom have been around the water for 70 years, say they have never seen anything like it before.

Bret Wolfe, the refuge manager, said he was first alerted by someone walking on the beach who told him: "There's something weird going on over here".

Maui has been experiencing a drought which scientists say may be responsible. Instead, an organism called halobacteria might be the culprit.

Message in a bottle found 26 years later

Massachusetts: A French man cleaning trash from a beach found a message in a bottle that had been authored by a Massachusetts fifth grader 26 years earlier.

Benjamin Lyons wrote the message as part of an assignment for science teacher Frederic J. Hemmila's class at Sandwich's Forestdale School in October 1997.

The messages written by the class were inserted into bottles and dropped into the ocean by a boat captain who was Hemmila's friend.

Hubert Eriau, 71, said in his reply to the school district that he typically spends his mornings fishing and cleaning up beach trash in Les Sables-d'Olonne, Vendée, France. He said he came across the message in a bottle on Aug. 11.

Amazing engineering skills of MCC!

Sir,

A few months back, MCC took up the work of constructing a drain culvert on the road joining Mahadeshwara-Vijayanagar Railway Layout, at the right turn of the Main Road leading to Vijayanagar Water Tank.

Now the said work is completed and the road thrown open to public. But it is really a pity to see the four-wheelers struggling to enter or cross over this re-constructed culvert (see pic) while the two-wheelers have to be more careful as the height of the culvert may pose danger.

I request the concerned engineer of the MCC to bring his vehicle and have a test drive on this culvert to experience what the motorists undergo. God only must save the people.

The narratives coined for Ekeekarana are seen in the light of multiple languages coming under the umbrella of Kannada. Linguistic hegemony is seen within the framework of the Constitution.

By switching over to LED, MCC saves Rs.14.8 crore

75,485 LED bulbs fitted to street lights reducing overall power consumption by 67 percent

Mysuru, Nov. 15 (MK& BS)- Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has reduced about 50 percent of power consumption for street lights thus saving the total expenditure by Rs. 14.8 crore per annum, thanks to the installation of 75,485 Light Emitting Diode (LED) bulbs to the street lights.

Apart from increasing the lux capacity by switching over to LED, MCC implemented the plan under Public-Private-Partnership (PPP) to save overall power consumption, which has gradually cut down the monthly maintenance cost along with saving money for its exchequer.

The poles fitted with LED bulbs can be seen not just lightening the city roads, but also parks, burial grounds and other public places. They are operated under Centralised Control and Monitoring System (CCMS) equipped with auto on and off facility.

Nodal Officer of MCC Sai Shankar told Star of Mysore "According to a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between MCC and Escort Energy Solutions Limited (EESL), it is mandatory to save 58.77 per cent power. However, due to the installation of LED bulbs of minimum 16 watt to 120 watt in accordance with requirement, MCC is saving 65 percent to 67 percent of power. Moreover, the total number of LED bulbs (75,485) exceed the number of 57,000 conventional bulbs installed earlier, thus cutting down the monthly maintenance cost by Rs. 45 lakh which can be calculated at Rs. five crore per annum. Besides, the monthly electricity bill has come down by Rs. 85 lakh to Rs. 90 lakh against Rs. 2.51 crore paid towards electricity bill earlier."

Most of the cities in the country including the 'Clean City' fame Indore in Madhya Pradesh have adopted LED system in their street lights plan. Moreover, Smart Meters have been installed to keep a tab on power consumption, that has come in handy in raising the issue in case of any queries. Earlier, there as was no provision to raise any queries irrespective of differences in power bill, added MCC Nodal Officer Sai Shankar.

Stop tapping power from poles

MCC officials have appealed the general public to stop drawing electricity directly from electric poles, during fairs and other events. It not just increases power consumption, but also the bill. The public should understand on their own and refrain from such activities, so that it would help in saving power and provide the service to all without any complaints.

Any queries regarding street lights among public will be attended by dedicated control room that works round the clock. The control room can be reached on toll-free number- 18004255925.

Mysuru, Nov. 15 (RK&BCT)- After facing challenges in launching the ambitious Group Housing Scheme, despite conducting a physical demand survey and introducing an app for the same purpose, the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) is contemplating another demand survey. In this new survey, applicants will be required to deposit Rs. 1 lakh along with their applications.

The 2021 demand survey by MUDA garnered over 47,000 applications. Now the authority seeks to assess genuine demand by asking applicants to submit Rs. 1 lakh, ensuring that only serious candidates secure the housing, thereby filtering out others.

The previous demand survey prompted MUDA to proceed with the construction of multi-storeyed apartments, already granted administrative clearance. Plans for 1,960 flats, encompassing 1 BHK and 2 BHK units affordable to the general public, are in place.

While MUDA acknowledges the challenge of providing plots for all site aspirants due to land scarcity and its premium, potentially derailing the dreams of many citizens, it aims to identify only genuine beneficiaries. The decision to ask for a Rs. 1 lakh deposit aligns with the directive from Urban Development Minister Byrathi Suresh, emphasising the identification of genuine buyers.

The proposed construction site is at Dattagalli, located between the residence of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and Ramakrishnanagar, where 390 units will be built on a 3.08-acre plot. The DPR for the project is ready and submitted to the State Government. Similar apartments are planned across the city, including a 4-acre plot in Vijayanagar 2nd stage for over 500 houses.

MUDA's possession of an eight-acre plot in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage, freed from legal complications, is also earmarked for group housing. Positioned conveniently near Hinkal and the Ring Road, this location is ideal for the Group Housing Project, offering essential amenities and facilities.

If launched, the project signifies MUDA's shift to a vertical growth model due to land scarcity and the impracticality of continuous horizontal expansion. MUDA had previously explored vertical group housing projects using the Bengaluru Development Authority model, facing delays due to slow Government approvals.

Earlier plans included constructing 550 houses at Vijayanagar 4th Stage, 250 at Dattagalli and 300 houses at Gokulam, totalling 1,100 houses. Despite preparing Detailed Project Reports for these ambitious projects, involving 13-storeyed (G+12) structures at each site, they have not progressed due to Government inaction.

This date coincides with the birth anniversary of Sri Birsa Munda, revered as Bhagwan by tribal communities. The Centre has organised numerous events across the nation to celebrate and commemorate the rich history, culture and achievements of tribal people.

As part of these celebrations, an event took place this morning in Mysuru, in collaboration with State Government, to showcase the accomplishments of tribals. The event also highlighted various welfare measures undertaken by the Government of India in education, health, livelihood, infrastructure and skill development.

Sahara Group Chief Subrata Roy dies

Mumbai, Nov. 15 (UNI&Agencies)- Sahara Group Chief Subrata Roy died in a Mumbai hospital yesterday of a cardiorespiratory arrest following an extended battle with complications arising from metastatic malignancy, hypertension and diabetes, according to a company statement. He was 75.

Subrata Roy

Roy, who called himself the Chief Guardian of Sahara India Pariwar, was known for his political connections and controversial ventures in the world of business and finance.

Making a modest start in 1978 with a capital of only Rs. 2,000, he built Sahara India over the decades. The Group, on its website, claims it has 9 crore investors and customers, a networth of Rs. 2,59,900 crore, 5,000 establishments and 30,970 acres of land bank. The company was once hailed by Time magazine as the second-largest employer in India after Indian Railways

Roy built his empire by collecting deposits from millions of poor and rural Indians with limited or no access to formal banking services. The cookie, however, crumbled after market regulator SEBI moved against him. The case involved collection of over Rs. 24,000 crore from three crore individuals. An ambitious businessman, Roy once owned an airline, a Formula One team, an IPL cricket team, plush hotels in London and New York and financial companies. He sold his airline, Air Sahara, to Jet Airways which itself collapsed later.

He hosted film stars at his events and had "friends" across political parties. But over the years, he came to be identified more with Mulayam Singh Yadav and his Samajwadi Party. When Mulayam Singh became the Chief Minister of UP again in December 1993, Roy's relationship grew deeper. He was also closely associated with Amar Singh, a close associate of Mulayam Singh.

Roy was sent to jail on March 4, 2014, for not paying an outstanding amount of Rs. 10,000 crore. The Court said he would not be released until he brought in Rs. 5,000 crore in cash and Rs. 5,000 crore by way of bank guarantee.

In 2013, Sahara sent 127 trucks containing 31,669 cartons of over three crore application forms and two crore redemption vouchers to the SEBI office. He stayed in jail for over two years and was out on parole in 2016.

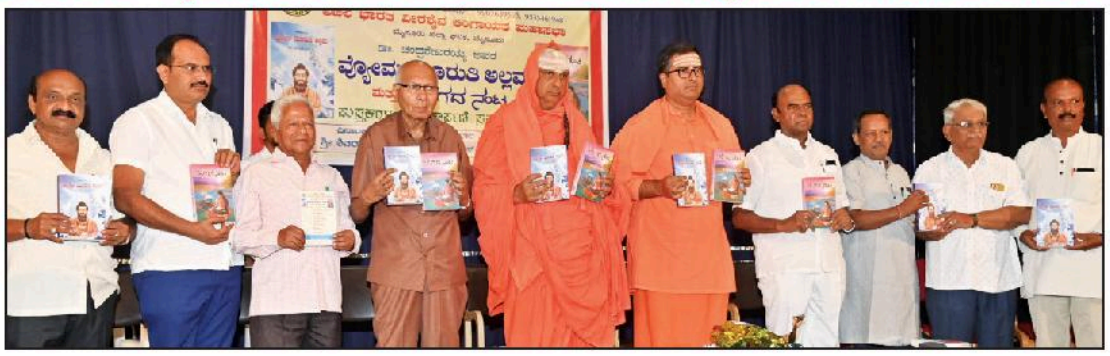
Ideas crop up if there are intellectual conflicts

Books 'Vyuma Muruti Allama' and 'Jagada Nanta' released



Mysuru, Nov. 15- Maintaining that ideas will crop up if there are intellectual conflicts between the mentor and the pupil, writer and former Karnataka Sahitya Academy Chairman Dr. B.V. Vasanthkumar said that, however, it is regretful to note that University Professors are making pupils as their followers, leaving little scope for independent thinking.

He was speaking at a programme to release writer Chandrashekharaiah's books 'Vyuma Muruti Allama' and 'Jagada Nanta' under the joint aegis of Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva Mahasabha and Samvahana Prakashana at Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Bhavana here on Sunday.

Noting that the confrontation between Basavanna and his guru Vishnusharma over the original form of Brahminism gave rise to a new order at Bagewadi, Dr. Vasanthkumar said that the confrontation was not born out of hatred but for the cause of a societal transformation.

Pointing out that Basavanna opposed the stains in religion and this resulted in societal reforms in 12th century, he said that it was Basavanna who brought about change in the society through his Sharana Movement.

Seer Sri Sharatchandra Swamiji, who spoke after releasing the books, said that the problems and challenges that Basavanna and the Sharanas faced in the 12th century, persist even today.

Observing that historical novels and writings will give us the strength to drive away the problems, he opined that it is a challenge for the present day writers to ensure that the historical incidents are not distorted or twisted in their works.

Critic and former Kannada Book Authority Chairman Nandeesh Hanche too spoke and said, what the world badly needs today is peace, harmony and non-violence.

Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji graced the occasion. MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah, veteran writer Prof. C.P. Krishnakumar (CPK), author Chandrashekaraiah, Kannada Sahitya Kalakoota President M. Chandrashekar, Publisher D.N. Lokappa of Samvahana Prakashana, Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva-Lingayat Mahasabha District President S. Shivamurthy Kaanya & others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Audacious

Pronunciation: aw-DAY-shus.
Meaning: Audacious is an adjective used to describe people, or things that people make or do, that are confident and daring, or bold and surprising.
Origin: Fortune favours the bold—or, as ancient Romans are known to have said, "audentes Fortuna iuvat." Audentes here is the present participle of the Latin verb audēre, meaning "to dare," a word that also led, via several etymological twists and turns through the centuries, to the English adjective audacious. When it first appeared in English in the mid-1500s, audacious meant "intrepidly daring," a sense we still use today when we apply the word to various feats of derring-do and those who dare to do them. Since then it has developed several additional meanings, including the closely related "recklessly bold" and "marked by originality and verve," as in "her audacious new album heralds the future of hip-hop." Of course, with audacity (another audēre descendent) comes risk that fortune, despite the maxim, doesn't always favour: as fungi foragers know, there are sagacious mushroomers, and audacious mushroomers, but there are no sagacious audacious mushroomers.
Example: "My auntie Carolyn was a teacher at Bunker Hills School in Washington, DC. She was an audacious teacher, and invited the Queen of England to her classroom—and the Queen came, twice. Teachers like that make such a difference." — Sheryl Lee Ralph, quoted in Ebony, 16 Aug. 2023.

THE ODD WORD

Ablutomania

Mania for washing oneself.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

All in the same boat

Meaning: You use the phrase 'All in the same boat' to indicate that you and your companions or contemporaries are experiencing the same conditions or taking part in the same situation.
Origin: There are quite a few speculations about where the term 'All in same boat' originated. One of the most popular comes from the sinking of Titanic, when people from all classes were in the same situation after the ship struck iceberg.
Example: "Don't be mad at me! We're all in the same boat here."

QUOTE BOX

We may have all come on different ships, but we're in the same boat now.
